LINCOLN ENTERTAINS A LARGE CROWD

Attendance the First Day as Numerous as at Any Time in the History of the Institution-Some Good Exhibits.

LINCOLN, Supt. 12 .- (Special to The Bee.) -The unprecedented success of the state fair astonishes no one more than it does the members of the board. When it was talked of in the carly part of the season the hard times and the supposed ruin of the crops by the drouth were brought up as arguments why the fair should not be held, but Secretary Furnas and some others of the board insisted, while admitting that it would probably be a financial loss. Monday the outlook was rather gloomy, though the display tnade was one of the best ever seen on the grounds, but yesterday a flood of humanity poured into the city and into the fair grounds and the city entertained such a crowd as it has not seen in many years. Last night the only sleeping accommodations to be had for love or many were in the shape of cots in the corridors of the lottels. in the corridors of the hotels.

The immense throng of people on the grounds yesterday was made up of 8,000 free admissions and though paid admissions to make the day a bigger one than any Tuesday in the history of the fair. The grand stand is an immense affair, and while the races were in progress there was not a vacant seat in it, and the quarter stretch and every point of vantage from which the races could be seen were black with spectators.

One of the most remarkable exhibits on the grounds is the poultry show, which is under the supervision of Superintendent Lewelling. The room is insidequate for the display, but it has been arranged in the best way to economize the space and the 2,200 specimens are all open to inspection. If one may judge from the crowd which is continually in the building a considerable continually in the latics of the state is interested in the raising of poultry, and has come to about the best possible place to get pointers. The exhibit includes all the various breeds now exhibit includes all the various breeds now raised in the state, end many of them are prize winners in county and other fairs.

Another building which is attracting a good of attention is that in which is located the creamery exhibit, adjoining the fishery building. It is under the supervision of S. G. Bassett, and the display is the finest ever seen in this building.

G. Bassett, and the display is the finest ever seen in this building.

One of the interesting features of the afternoon program is the performance of the fife and drum. The drummer, Major R. H. Hendershot, the original drummer boy of the Rappahannock, in speaking of the fair, said:

"I want to say to you that we have traveled all over the world, you might say, and attended and played for more fairs, perhaps, than any two musicians in America, and in all of my experience I have never seen as all of my experience I have never seen as fine a display as you have here at your fair. The fair at Des Moines was grand, but they The fair at Des Moines was grand, but they met with had luck there on account of other attractions and rain which prevented a part of their display. Their management was No. 1, as well as yours is here. I feel like saying that for you. It is worth $25 to any man who is interested in the state of Nebraska to go through that agricultural hall and see the display that you have there. I only wish that the people of the eastern states could look through your agricultural hall and see what you have."

Secretary Furnas of the Board of Agriculture was surprised at the Lincoln tonight by his friends on the horticultural board, who had a handsome gold headed cans appropriately engraved for his con-cane appropriately engraved for his consideration. It was presented by President Masters of Nebraska City, and in accepting it Governor Furnas made an appropriate speech, giving his reasons for rejoicing that the fair in this, of all years, had been a

BARRETT SCOTT ON TRIAL.

Efforts of the Prisoner to Show that He is Being Persecuted.

NELIGH, Neb., Sept. 12 .- (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-In the district court today the Barrett Scott case consumed all the time. The defense introduced testimony to show that it was three months before Scott left for Mexico that the Holt county bank failed, and that much of the county funds were lost in that failure: that Scott hah had a settlement with the county su-pervisors and that they had counted the money, accepting the settlement as complete ring the election much bad blood was engendered, Scott receiving a majority over both other candidates, and that his bond for the second term was approved. Then, it is claimed, a conspiracy was hatched amongst the independents to oust Scott and put in one of their own party as treasurer. After this they again demanded to count the money, and on Scott's refusal declared his office vacant and appointed their man, and he demanded the office, but was refused, and after Scott went to Mexico the new treasurer again demanded the office of the deputy, who turned it over to him.

An effort was made to show that Scott money deposited in the different banks of Holt county in his own name. This evening counsel closed the arguments and the tiring at 9 p. m. with an all night's siege before them. The defense attempted to show that Scott's trip to Mexico was to collect a $1,000 loan of Teneray, and that Scott bought an excursion ticket at Kansas City for Mexico, on which tickst he returned to that city

LINCOLN, Sept. 12.—(Special to The Bee.)-Despite the fact that several new policemen have been added to the force during fair week, Lincoln has not escaped from the band of petty thieves and ragamuffins that usually infest places where they think they can ply their business undetected. Early this morning the Capital hotel was the scene of an exciting escapade. In room 111 Smith

Caldwell was quartered with two other men, and about 5 o'clock he was awakened by the noise made by some one entering his room.

He got up just in time to see a man dodge into the next room. He entered this room by another door, but the intruder, slamming the door in his face, made his exit into the main hall. Caldwell followed him there, when the unknown man pulled a handful of silver dollars from some part of his clothing and hurled them at him with sufficient force to cut a deep gash in his forehead. Nothing daunted. Caldwell kept up the chase, and finally cornered his man in room 50. The police were notified, and a couple of officers unwilling prisoner to the station. He gave the name of Bush at the station, but his clothing was marked with the name of Doran. The police think that they have caught a smooth man, although at his trial this morning he protested that he was not the man that entered the sleeping compart ment of Caidwell. Nevertheless he was bound over to the district court in the sum of $500. An examination of the various doors of the hotel rooms showed that several of the locks had been turned, and tha they were ready to be entered noiselessly. Much credit is given to Cadwell, whose home is at Edgar, for his timely awakening, which probably saved many of the guests of the hotel a goodly sum. W. H. Patmore has reported at the station that his residence was entered by sneak thieves some time during the afternoon, and a revolver and two gold rings taken. Ed Woehler mourns the loss of a silver watch and several other minor articles, which were puriotned from his room. R. S. Risser says that he is out just $1.20, which he had in a savings bank, which is now missing from his household. Dr. Wente thinks he wounded one of two men he found in his house when he returned home Monday night, J. W. Mefford claims that he was
